Group Contact Tracing January 31, 2022

Group Contact Tracing letters will be sent to:

All students who spent time with other students for more than 15 minutes indoors, or engaged in any other indoor activities, with a person who has tested positive. Schools will not be sending out individual close contact letters.

Using the Group Contact Tracing method, all students, regardless of vaccination status without any symptoms, identified as a contact in a supervised school setting, do not need to quarantine at home.

If you do receive a group tracing contact letter, please do the following:

- Your student may return to school as long as they don't have symptoms.
- Continue to monitor your student for symptoms.
- Strongly recommend testing on day 5, but you do not need to share negative results from a school exposure for your student to return to school. Please only share a positive test result in this circumstance.
